High Terpene Sauce

With terpene content as high as 18-20%, Au Jus creates a new paradigm for the term "Terpene Rich". While terpenes are the headliner, Au Jus also has significant THC and THCA, proving that you don't have to sacrifice entourage effect potency for flavor.

Extracted from Fresh Frozen Flower to Lock In Fresh Flavor

Immediately after harvest, our Full Spec flower is fresh frozen and extracted at temperatures as low as -100° F. This locks in the fresh aromas and flavors of each flowering plant, and preserves the entire full spectrum of cannabis compounds.

Full Spectrum High Terpene Extraction

By maximizing the preserved spectrum of cannabinoids & terpenes in flower instead of focusing on THC, Live Resin Hybrid delivers a sustained entourage effect that makes for a compelling alternative to the quickburst effect of distillate.

Flexible Use Dab Vial

The convenient Dab Vial makes it easy to pour a little bit of Au Jus magic wherever you please: Into a dab rig, into a dab pen, on a bowl of flower, or even within a freshly rolled blunt or joint. Choose your own adventure!

For those seeking the best terpene experience out there, Au Jus may just be the holy grail.

Like the rest of the Full Spec family, Au Jus starts its journey with curated cannabis genetics that are cultivated, harvested, and immediately frozen at temperatures as low as -80° F to retain their highly prized characteristics.

This fresh frozen cannabis must then be extracted with great care at ultra low temperatures (-70° F to -100° F) in an effort to preserve all the signature cannabinoids, terpenes, and compounds of each strain. This extraction produces both high potency THC and a full spectrum high terpene "sauce".

Au Jus is that sauce and that sauce alone. A perfect preservation of the aromas, flavors, and characteristics of fresh cannabis, delivered in a distinctive, convenient dab vial. Use the Au Jus in whatever way you like - it works as a standalone dab, as a flavorful pairing to another concentrate, or as a powerful flavor infusion for flower bowls & blunts.
